LOCALS DRUB PARAGOULD 11-5 COLLECTING FOUR CIRCUIT CLOUTS IN THE PROCESS

A pick-up squad of Paragould youngsters, assisted behind the plate by "Slim" Limbaugh of Cape Girardeau, made life miserable for the locals for two innings Sunday afternoon in Fairgrounds Park, but fell before the battery of sluggers who found their stride in the third and saluted down the contest in the fifth with three additional runs. Again in the seventh in which one tally was gathered, and in the eighth, the locals piled up the discouraging total of eleven runs—four of them circuit passes.

A combination of fair pitching by Hunze, 16-year-old twirler from Arkansas, and brilliant infield work surprised the local fans who made up their minds before the game that it would be a happy-go-lucky slugfest for the Sikeston boys.

The locals piled up a three-run lead in the third inning, when Burrus and Gore scored on Smetzer's homer, but the Arkansans came back in their half of the fourth and knotted the score, an error, two singles and a double turning the trick.

Shorty Crain singled in the fourth offering thereby to change the complexion of the scoreboard, but Kindred hit into a double play and Shorley walked in from second. Swain retired the side with a short roller to second for an easy putout at first.

In the next frame, Bowman led off and made the circuit with a long hard drive deep into centerfield. Big Burrus singled but was out at second on Gore's roller to short. Tuffy Crain had heard of Sensenbaugh's offer for five gallons of gasoline for a homer on the local lot, and proceeded to take the offer seriously. His knock scored Gore and ended the rally. In the same frame, Smetzer got on by an error, but forgot his age, when he tried to beat a throw in to home plate. Slim Limbaugh had no difficulty in taging the Sikeston first sacker as he lobbed back to third.

The big inning for the visitors came in the third with Darling, Howell and McDonald scoring on Hunze's two-base hit, and G. McDonald's knock to Gore at second. Again in the eighth the visitors scored with Jones bringing in the tally on Limbaugh's bingle. B. McDonald cracked out a long drive to left and pro-

PLANS COMPLETED FOR DEXTER DEMOCRATIC RALLY

SOUTHEAST MISSOURI MAIL CARRIERS ELECT OFFICERS

Charleston, June 1.—One hundred persons attended the Southeast Missouri rural letter carriers convention which was held Friday on the lawn of the Mississippi County courthouse.

The Rev. E. H. O'rear, pastor of the Methodist Church, gave the invocation. Mayor Ernest Story welcomed the visitors. W. S. Allen of Cape Girardeau, gave the response. Addresses were made by State President L. B. Harmon of Nevada, Mo., State Vice President J. E. Herring of Princeton, Mo., Postmaster G. L. Pemberton and County School Superintendent Mrs. Ruby Thompson.

The following officers were elected to serve for the coming year: President, Lewis E. Edwards, Charleston; vice president, Ben F. Adams, Benton; secretary and treasurer, W. S. Allen, Cape Girardeau. C. B. James of Clarkton, was elected delegate to the State convention, which will be held in Jefferson City, July 19. East Prairie was chosen for the 1931 convention.

Other speakers have not definitely accepted the engagement and stated positively that they will be there. Senator Caraway of Arkansas and ex-Mayor Stigall of St. Joseph have stated that they will be there without fail. Senator Caraway has been assigned the address of honor of the day.

Other prominent Democrats in both Missouri and other States will attend this meeting as will most of the members of the Democratic State Committee. In addition to the speakers there is expected one of the largest crowds that has ever gathered for the same purpose in Southeast Missouri.

Communication from Chas. C. Oliver, Chairman of the Publicity Committee, states that "Definite acceptances have been had from Senator Caraway and ex-mayor Stigall of St. Joseph, Mo., and in addition to them other prominent men in State politics will be present."

"We realize that this is a very busy season to undertake a political rally of this kind but I have assured the other committees sponsoring it, that it can be "put across" with the co-operation of the newspapers. Help me prove that it can."

Mrs. C. F. Bruton, Mrs. Shirley Bloomfield and Mrs. Tom Baker will be hostesses to the L. A. W. Class of the Christian Church, Tuesday evening, June 3, at the home of Mrs. C. F. Bruton.

Charles Hebbeler, manager of an ice cream plant at Festus, spent Decoration Day in Sikeston.

The ladies of the Catholic church will give a Lotto Party and Bazaar on the lawn at the school Thursday evening of this week beginning at 7:30 o'clock to which they invite the citizens of Sikeston and vicinity. The receipts will go to the funds of their church.

Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Kirby had as their week-end guests, Misses Alyce Trent, Arlene Abbott and J. O. Trent of St. Louis.

DEMOCRATIC STATE REUNION JUNE 7 AT SEDALIA, MO.

St. Louis, May 31.—Plans for a Democratic State reunion and barbecue at the State fairgrounds at Sedalia June 7 have been announced by Col. Carl L. Ristine of Lexington, Elmer O. Jones of LaPlata and Jas. Blair of Jefferson City, members of the arrangements committee of the Young Men's Jefferson Democratic club of Missouri. The club will sponsor the reunion.

John H. Atwood, attorney of Kansas City, will be one of the principal speakers. James A. Reed, former United States Senator from Missouri, will speak at night.

The Missouri Pacific railroad has announced special round trip rates to be offered from various portions of the State to Sedalia.

TELEPHONE COMPANY TO BUILD HOME HERE

L. D. Gemeiner, Assistant Plant Superintendent of the Southeast Missouri Telephone Company, was here from Sikeston Tuesday, closing up the trade with W. C. Keaton for the lot one door south of Henry Scheerer's residence on Locust street.

The Telephone Company acquires this lot as a site for a new home for the local telephone exchange. In the early part of next year, they contemplate erecting on it a commodious and thoroughly modern office building, which we are assured will be modern to the most minute detail and will house new equipment throughout.

Mr. Gemeiner says it will be such a building as will be a credit to Dexter and one in which we will pride. Dexter Statesman.

STODDARD COUNTY FACES CUT IN BUDGET IF CENSUS DROPS

Dexter, May 30.—The census has entered politics in Stoddard County. Present indications with six out of seven townships already reported are that the county will fall short of the more than 30,000 people it had in the last census. To date only one town in the county, Dexter, has gained out of the seven towns in the last census, and every township has lost except Liberty, the township in which Dexter is located, which gained 300, and one other township which gained less than 50.

If the final figures are below 30,000, it will necessitate cutting down the salaries of at least two and probably three officers that will be filled by the August elections.

This fact has caused two prospective candidates to abandon the race and has dampened the enthusiasm of others already in the race.

This is the time of year when men and boys should be careful about reaching into hollow logs and trees, for there may be a snake ready to strike. Lloyd Milburn, 12-year-old Arkansas boy, near Gamaliel, found this to be a fact the other day. The boy stuck his hand into a hollow log a few days ago and drew it out with a rattlesnake hanging to it with its fangs. He was rushed to Mountain Home for medical treatment and was given snake bite serum. The boy was out in the woods when his dogs树 something in the hollow log. The boy thought it might be a rabbit, reached in and got a snake. West Plains Gazette.

FATE OF SIKESTON'S MUNY PLANT TO BE DECIDED BY MISSOURI SUPREME COURT

The following story in the Monday morning Post-Dispatch adequately summarizes the situation in Sikeston with regards to the status of municipal light plant bond issue, and briefly sketches the municipal ownership situation in other Southeast Missouri towns.

Sikeston, June 1.—Whether or not Sikeston will have a municipal light and power plant costing $150,000 is expected to be decided by next fall by the Missouri Supreme Court.

R. E. Bailey, City Attorney, has been notified by Bowersock, Fizzell & Rhodes, attorneys representing the bonding house of Prescott, Wright, Snider Co. of Kansas City, which purchased the Sikeston municipal light plant bonds, that another election probably will be necessary. A short course in placing the matter before the Supreme Court is sought.

Sikeston voted on the municipal light plant question April 1. At that time 1886 votes were cast, 1240 "yes" and 517 "no", leaving 129 ballots unaccounted for. The Supreme Court will be called on to decide whether or not a person voted when his ballot is thrown out or mutilated in the process of voting. If the 129 ballots are counted in the total votes cast, the proposition failed of the necessary two-thirds majority by 17. Otherwise, it carried.

RINGNECK PHEASANTS IN SOUTHEAST MISSOURI

With the intended purpose of stocking Missouri with English Ring-neck Pheasants that an open season on the bird can be enjoyed as early as 1935, the State game and fish department has distributed more than 30,000 fine strain eggs to sportsmen and farmers for hatching. This community has been made a part of the great State game farm for many settings of eggs have been received here.

Approximately 2000 settings of 15 eggs each were purchased by the park and refuge division of the Missouri Game and Fish Department for the 1930 distribution. These eggs, in addition to the 24,000 eggs distributed in 1927, brings the total number of eggs set by farmers to 54,000. This does not include the several thousand eggs set on the game refuges and small game farms maintained by the department throughout the State.

During 1928 the department distributed approximately 1500 mature birds on the game refuges. Last year approximately 1000 birds were released after several hundred fine specimens were selected for brood stock for use in the refuge and game farm system. A total of 175 imported English ringneck birds were released over the State this spring and 325 imported birds were placed on the game farms.

The crow of the cock pheasant is now to be heard in many communities and with the addition of the birds now being hatched pheasants will be even more plentiful. Persons in this section who are co-operating with the State in stocking Missouri with pheasants include:

Scott County—Geo. McEshols, R. 1.
Stoddard County—Ruth Covington, Bloomfield; Ellsworth Stevens, Puxico; Wm. Miller, Louis Covington, H. G. Leffel, E. O. Barker, Dexter; R. G. Langley, Essex; Frank Johnson, Advance; C. C. Tucker, Zeta.

New Madrid County—Russell Boyt, Parma; Mrs. Bettie Latimer, Lillibourne H. A. Workman, Portageville.

Mississippi County—G. L. Pemberton, T. E. Oliver, Charleston.

It is believed that peaches came originally from China.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Miley, of Chicago, were week-end visitors in Sikeston. Russell was on a vacation and after a few days in St. Louis with his mother, came on to Sikeston that his wife might see the town in which he lived. From here they go South, thence up through Tennessee and into Virginia where Russell's father was from.

Lyman Fox is home from Atlanta, Ga., where he has received his A. B. degree from Oglethorpe University. He is looking the picture of health. He will be with the Scott County Milling Co. after July 1, traveling through the South. In the meantime, he is open for a job for 30 days and thinks his degree will help him qualify as a helper at a filling station or most anything else for this 30 days.

The Glasgow church which invited its members to bring their pipes to meeting, thinks that smoking here is better than smoking hereafter.

The Senator who denounces dial phones as a pest, and asks that they be removed from the Capitol, does believe that one good turn deserves another.

Friday of this week, June 6, is the last day to file for office. If your "friends" are after you to run for any office, don't forget the last day is right upon you.

The Massachusetts Committee on Street and Highway Safety, having considered a large number of auto fatalities, finds that most accidents of that sort occur "between 6 and 7 p.m. on a beautiful, clear Sunday afternoon".

A friend of ours from up north says up there they rate the three greatest men of all time, as follows: Abraham Lincoln, Henry Ford, and Herbert Hoover. They explain it thusly: Lincoln freed the slaves, Henry Ford freed the mules and now Herbert Hoover has freed the working man.—Malden Merit.

A Florida city has passed an ordinance intended to promote the comfort of a well-known Chicago gangster temporarily within its boundaries. Pun-making is not in good repute with the cultivated, but the ban is not heavy enough to cause the repression of the remark that he is accustomed to facing and handling ordinance.

Scott County received quite a smack in the face when Federal officials removed prisoners from our jail because it was unfit in every way. The County Court will have to do something to get back into the good graces of prisoners and other interested parties so it is up to the Cou to give us a jail fit for any of us, if we get caught.

Some of these days somebody is going to advertise soft drink and short order places as a place of rest, where no hurdy gurdy will ruin your nerves and you can eat in peace. If radios and music machines would use the soft pedal the racket wouldn't be quite so bad, but jazz in thunderous tones takes the joy out of eating and drinking, especially of old folks.

The Supreme Court of the United States holds that the purchaser of liquor for drinking purposes is not criminal, under the law as it now exists. The decision states that it is fair to assume that Congress, when it came to pass the prohibition act, knew what it was doing, and deliberately and designedly omitted to impose upon the purchaser of liquor for beverage purposes, any criminal liability. Although the wets seem to have the best of it, the decision is not without a grain of comfort for the drys, since it points out clearly that the schnapps-buyer is standing upon ice so thin that it can be broken readily by legislative enactment.

The editor and wife again have sore hearts and nerve wracked bodies. Mary, our second daughter, was on the operating table for a considerable time Sunday morning at the Emergency Hospital, had her appendix removed and some repair work done. She stood the operation fine, so the surgeon said, and will make a rapid recovery. You know, when parents grow old, it is doubly hard on them to stand to see their grown children sick and suffering. When they are small and the mother is young, she can minister to them with a steady hand, but when she grows older and sickness has wracked her body, she cannot stand the punishment. The father never was of use in sickness, always in the way even if his nerve will stand, and he is just fit to pay the bills and keep out of the house. We are in hopes that for the balance of our days our children will have no more serious sickness. We are truly grateful that God has let them live through these trials of serious sickness.

Harry E. Dudley is announced in this issue of The Standard as a candidate for Collector of Scott County, subject to the will of the voters in the Democratic primary to be held in August. "Dud" has been a citizen of Sikeston for 16 years and has been a citizen that all are proud of. In fact, he is one of the cleanest men that we have. Morally, he is ace high, and his influence with the boys and young men of the community has been the talk of all. He belongs to the American Legion, is a Major in the National Guard, is a leader in all athletic affairs of the community and of Southeast Missouri. He is eminently qualified for the position he seeks and if he wins in the primary will add strength to the ticket. He is to make an active campaign, knowing that in Emil Steck he has one of the best men in the county to beat for the nomination. Both are personal friends of the editor and he who receives the nomination of the party will have 100 per cent backing of this paper in the November election.

The pitiful excuse the Senate makes in agreeing to the highest tariff ever imposed upon the buying public will fool no one who takes one minute's time to think. The Democratic and insurgent bunch who had the power to keep the infamous Smoot-Hawley tariff bill from becoming a law, offer to the public as their reason for agreeing to this tariff robbery provision that they got an agreement to take away from the president the power to raise the tariff by his own act. Now just think. Why would Hoover want to raise a rate when he had got it raised higher than he would ever have dreamed of putting it had it been left to him? Every item that flakes the pockets of the consumer has been agreed to by these politicians who have been seeking some excuse to hear their "master's voice" and of all the miserable excuses, they have fallen for the most ridiculous. If this one fools the public there is no hope. If it is ignorance on the part of these senators it is pitiful and brands each as an incompetent, unfit to represent a township. If it is not ignorance, it is a betrayal of his already-overburdened constituency. In either case he should be ashamed ever again to face his people.—LaPlata Home-Press.

Gardening Is A Relief From Household
Cares Women Contestants Discover

A new joy has come to the scores of women here who have entered their home grounds in The Yard and Garden Contest. These women have found gardening a most welcome relief from household cares. They for get all of their worries when tending the beautiful flowers which are making their places so attractive. And digging about the roots of plants is such a relaxation. It always rests one.

Then too, gardening invigorates every woman for it brings her the tonic of fresh air and the healthful rays of the sun. A complete satisfaction comes finally to the woman gardener when she sees the happy fruition of her labors as the growing things burst into bloom.

THIS WEEK IN MO. HISTORY

(Floyd C. Shoemaker)

The birthday anniversary of Thomas Adiel Sherwood, eminent Missouri lawyer and jurist, is commemorated this week. He was born at Eatonton, Ga., on the second of June, 1834, ninety-six years ago.

Coming to Missouri as a young man, Judge Sherwood living successively in St. Louis, Cape Girardeau, Scott, Newton, Lawrence and Greene counties, finally making the latter his home. He built up a wide practice in southeast Missouri, and established a fine reputation as a lawyer. His career was crowned by thirty years' service as a judge of the Supreme Court of Missouri, seven years of which he sat as chief justice. He distinguished himself by the clarity of his opinions and the excellence of the English in which they were presented.

Judge Sherwood was the son of the Rev. Adiel Sherwood, who became president of Shurtleff college, Upper Alton, Ill. His mother was formerly Miss Emma C. Heriot of Charleston, S. C. The boy received his education in Mercer university, in Georgia; at Shurtleff college, and at Cincinnati Law School. He came to Illinois as a youth, and after attending the college of which his father was head, moved to Missouri in 1852. He was admitted to the Missouri bar in Mississippi county in 1857, the same year he was graduated from the Cincinnati Law School. He came to Illinois as a youth, and after attending the college of which his father was head, moved to Missouri in 1852. He was admitted to the Missouri bar in Mississippi county in 1857, the same year he was graduated from the Cincinnati Law School.

Judge Sherwood became well known as a practitioner in Neosho, Mt. Vernon, and Springfield. In the latter city, which he made his home, he was associated with Henry C. Young, referred to by one writer as the "Chesterfield of the Springfield bar".

Judge Sherwood was a Democrat in politics, described by one editor as sympathetic in his attitude toward the common people, and devoid of aristocratic bias. Though of Southern origin, his forefathers were New Englanders, having come to America from England in 1735 and settled in Connecticut.

The severity of cutting or length of the cutting season and the treatment of asparagus after the cutting season determine to a great extent the quality and quantity of the next year's crop. Cutting too late exhausts the plants. After the ridges have been leveled and the beds have been cultivated thoroughly, broadcast and work in a good high-grade complete fertilizer at the rate of 1000 to 1500 pounds per acre. Give the bed flat culture for the remainder of the growing season.

Practically all farm animals show a preference for alfalfa hay cut in the early stages of growth, but this does not mean that such hay is always the best for feeding. Some animals, especially horses and mules, do much better on hay cut when the alfalfa is in full bloom, as hay cut in the early stages is somewhat too laxative. Hogs and poultry, however, cannot handle such coarse material, and unless the alfalfa is cut while still young, there is considerable wastage in feeding. It should also be borne in mind that cutting alfalfa while the plants are young reduces both the yield and the length of life of the stand, and the grower must take this into consideration in comparing the money value of hay cut young and at a more mature stage of growth.

the food is put into the jars boiling

Oven-dried toast is a delicious accompaniment to soups and salads, and is an easy way of disposing of stale bread. Any sort of pieces may be oven dried and delicately browned in a medium oven, but for passing as a special kind of bread, it is more attractive to trim the crusts off a stale loaf so the slices will be square, cut them very thin, and heat them until they are biscuit colored and slightly curled. The trimmings need not be wasted; roll them out for dried crumbs.

TIME FOR FISHERMEN TO OIL UP THEIR TACKLE FOR MR. AND MRS. BASS

Sportsmen are serving tackle, and has a larger daily flow than any checking equipment, discussing plans for the future and day dreaming of the big one that got away—for it's fishing season in Missouri.

Bass, crappie, jack salmon or wall-eyed pike and goggle eye which swarm the cool waters of the Ozark streams become fair sport to the angler on June 1. The famous streams of Missouri in the rugged Ozark Mountains perhaps are the most popular of middlewestern fishing districts. James River, White River, Lake Taneycomo and many others are famous for their fishing.

The game conservation program of Missouri has made it possible for game fish to be plentiful. During 1929 the Missouri game department rescued more than 1,454,000 of the finny tribe from stranded water holes and ponds caused by overflow. In addition millions of bass, crappie and other game fish have been planted in waters of the State during the last few years.

The region is rapidly becoming one of the most fully stocked trout districts in America. This achievement is reflective of the aggressive spirit of Missouri sportsmen. Ten years ago trout in Missouri was a rarity. Yet in the short span of that period the many streams have been stocked and that species of game fish are now plentiful. While Missouri sportsmen have supported the propagation of these finned warriors, the success of the adaption program was dependent upon the natural endowment of the district.

This region is famous for its great abundance of large clear watered springs. In fact the district contains a larger number of these artesian

The last word in deluxe bus construction is expressed in the Cotton Belt's new 35-passenger motor vehicles which will be placed in service between St. Louis and Memphis, Sunday, June 1. Extra space between seats, reclining chairs, interior overhead baggage compartments, allowing passengers to stand erect on entering or leaving the bus, are features provided.

DAY BY DAY WITH GOVERNOR PATTERSON

I do not always agree with Mr. Henry Ford. The fact is that some of his public pronouncements, made as if his great success as an automobile manufacturer, gave him the right to speak ex cathedra, have been rather crude and far from illuminating.

However, recent statements credited to Mr. Ford, in which he advocates among other things increased quantity production from the soil as one of the best and surest methods to bring the country out of the present slump of hard times, deserves careful consideration. Coupled with his opinion is another that it will take as long to get rid of the depression as it did to accumulate it.

Mr. Ford did not in so many words say that the advice given by Mr. Legge, the chairman of the farm board, to the farmers to grow less cotton and other farm products if they wanted to receive fair prices was wrong and inopportune, but the only inference to be drawn from the manufacturer's remarks is that Mr. Legge's advice was not economically sound. At the time it was given, and being so widely published, it occurred to me that the proposition was not only untenable, but one that a great government like ours should be ashamed to make in the light of all that has transpired, and in view of the fact that there can hardly be such a thing as over-production of the staple crops that have such a wide and diversified use.

The true view and the only helpful one of the situation, was to find and establish new markets, and discover additional uses for cotton and other crops which would absorb the output.

It is always better to have more than less of any staple crop, for then there is more employment, more people share in the handling and distribution, and more money is in evidence.

I am glad that Mr. Ford takes this view, and what he says may have more effect than coming from those not directly concerned with business or production.

It may be also said in passing that if Mr. Ford and some other manufacturers would keep their plants wholly in the United States, and not establish branches in the European countries, as they have done, this also would have a salutary effect on the problem of unemployment, and be a factor towards bringing about better times.

If he would go a little further and advocate the removal of a high tariff from the burdened backs of the people, thereby opening up fresh avenues of trade, and relieving the farmers of the country from extactions, it would further increase Mr. Ford's reputation as an economic doctor, who had made a correct diagnosis of the national disease of hard times, and prescribed a remedy.

The truth is that some of the manufacturers of the country are now being hoisted on their own petard, so to speak. In advocating high protection for themselves, they have reduced the purchasing power of the farmers, who have been their best customers in the past, and would be again if they could buy as they once did. They have not killed but have badly wounded the goose that laid the golden eggs, and are now suffering as the result. I quote the following from Mr. Ford's published interview: "Of course the steady desertion of the farm cannot continue forever. Too many people believe that Santa Claus lives in the city. They were raising a million dollars to advertise Detroit and bring people here. I told them the money would be better spent to educate people how to get away from the city. Half the people out of work in Detroit have farms they could work".

When asked whether quantity production from the soil would not mean overproduction and waste, Mr. Ford replied "what we call waste is only surplus, and surplus is always the starting point for new uses".

In the above statements, Mr. Ford has spoken well and wisely.

The process going on of farm depletion to build up cities bodes no good to the country. It is increasing every day the problem of unemployment, and is a great factor in bringing on crime. It reverses the natural order, and weakens the nation where it should be strongest.—Commercial Appeal.

The Jimplicite has the profoundest respect for ministers of all denominations. This country would be in a hell of a fix if we had no churches, ministers or church-going people. As a rule they are the people who make a place worth while to live in, they work for the uplift of a community, they are always ready to respond to the call of the afflicted and needy and they who say that anyone connected with this newspaper is a scoffer at any religion is just a plain, unmitigated liar.—Ilmo Jimplicite.

Yards and gardens in Sikeston are needing rain badly. While the weather has been unusually cool during the month of May, a strong wind has been blowing that dried out the ground very fast. Yards are parched as though it was a dry August. A good general rain would be helpful, then warm weather to follow.

In explanation we merely state that even so, we have learned to set high stakes, to hope for the best, to work like hell and be more or less satisfied with what happens.

In London recently one famous paintings sold for $92,500, another for $77,500, while at Ozark a crate of delicious strawberries brings a $5 bill. Yet where can you find a prettier picture than a dish of red-ripe strawberries? comments Ed Thompson in the Ozark News-Leader.

Friends of Wallace Applegate, both Democrats and Republicans, have persuaded him to permit his name to go before the voters for Judge of the County Court from the First District. He has consented to do so and in the proper column will be found his announcement. He has been a farmer all his life, and a successful one at that, and is vitally interested in the matters that come before that body. He has been careful and saving with his own affairs and the voters need have no fear but he will look out for their interests when he is on the bench. As an upright citizen, the county has no better, and he has the entire confidence of the voters of all political beliefs, and as this is a heavy Democratic District, it is doubtful if the Republicans put a man in the field against him.

It is to be the policy of the Bell Telephone Company to erect their own building in cities where their business will justify. At Dexter a site has been purchased and the building is to be erected this season. At Sikeston the company still has four more years before their lease expires at which time they plan to erect a building for their own use in this city.

Plenty of room in this issue for more advertising, but it is just as cheap for us to put out an 8-page paper on the big press and fold it by folding machine as to print a 6-page paper on smaller press and fold by hand.

A card from Vivian Glover, written from Stuttgart, Ark., stated that they arrived safely in that city and was certain to have a good time as "dates" were already coming their way. We expect to hear any day that they have solved the problem of matrimony.

Although some "broilers" may be fat enough to market direct from the range, it is often profitable to fatten chickens for a week or two before marketing. Be careful not to overfeed the broilers when they are first put on the fattening ration.

Gradually increase the quantity at each feeding until toward the latter part of the fattening period the birds are getting all they will eat. The U. S. Department of Agriculture recommends the following fattening rations: 6 parts corn meal, 3 parts rolled oats, and 1 part middlings; or 6 parts corn meal, 2 parts ground oats without hulls, and 2 parts middlings. Feed these rations with milk, using 2 pounds of milk to 1 pound of mash.

One of the interesting features of the Memorial Day Celebration was the big parade of cars, twenty-three in number, which were gaily decorated and filled with children, who on that afternoon had enrolled in the Daily Vacation Bible School, which opened here Monday, June 2, under the supervision of Rev. S. W. Driggers, pastor of the Central Baptist church. The school, which is being held at the West End Public School, will continue for four weeks. Three hours each morning, five days of the week. The children are classified according to age and are taught portions of the Bible suited to their ages, scripture gems are memorized. There will be play periods, periods for music and notebook work, salutes to Christian and American flags and a period of handiwork. Rev. Driggers is superintendent of the school. There are four departments with the following teachers:

Supt. of Beginners—Miss Julia Pulham, assistants, Misses Jane Kirkpatrick, Dorothy Bastin, Mary Sue Atterberry, Bertha Dyer and Mrs. J. J. Dyer.

Supt. of Primary—Miss Emma Smith. Assistants, Kathryn Hequembourg, Mina Jackson, Esther Marshall, Kathryn Edwards, Nellie Scott, Kitty Bird, Louise Williams, Mesdames Carrie Baker, O. H. Blankenship and David McCormick.

Supt. of Junior—Miss Hallie Hissey. Assistants, Rev. and Mrs. A. E. Ray, Lester Morris, Misses Lorene Johnson, Mary Childress, Lurlaine Atterberry, Martha Hequembourg and Mrs. Opal Croft.

Supt. of Intermediate—Mrs. Fon H. Scifield. Assistant, Miss Edith Widener.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Fleklin have returned from a week's visit in Oklahoma City, Okla.

The sudden death of John Wesley Williams, Friday night about eleven o'clock, at his home, two miles east of this city, came as a great shock to his many relatives and friends. Mr. Williams retired earlier in the evening in seemingly perfect health. He awakened from his sleep and told his wife that he was suffering with a great pain in his shoulder. She awakened other members of the family and medicine was administered, but he lived only a few minutes, death due to heart trouble. Mr. Williams was born May 26, 1863 and had spent most of his life in this community, where he was known as a successful farmer. He was well and favorably known. He is survived by his widow, one daughter, Mrs. Pat Ellis and one son, Ralph, of this city; two daughters, Mesdames Clarence Dan and Roach Taylor of St. Louis and a daughter, Mrs. Medford Welch of Springfield, Mo. Rev. E. H. Orear conducted the funeral services Sunday afternoon at 1:30 at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Williams. Interment was made in the Odd Fellows Cemetery.

John C. Grace, who has been the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Grace, since his return last Tuesday from Berkley, Calif., where he received his Master's Degree from the University of California, left Saturday night for St. Louis, where he will be connected with the Weil-Kalper Manufacturing Company. He will be engaged in research work.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Collier of Bertrand spent Friday in this city.

Miss Frances Atterberry of Chicago is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Atterberry.

Joe Bolling of St. Louis is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Bailey Wilkinson, Jr. Mr. and Mrs. Roach Taylor of St. Louis are guests of relatives here.

Robert Moffat Latimer, Mrs. J. L. Priester and daughters, Misses Jane and Annette and their house guest, Mrs. S. W. Andrews, Jr., of Oklahoma City, Okla., spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Andrews, Sr., at Arcadia.

Judge I. R. Kelso and Col. Newman of the Missouri Utilities Co., were in Sikeston Sunday evening.

The loss on the fire at Lon Nall's home was partially covered by insurance. The house cost him $3500 without furnishings and he carried but $1500 on the house.

Mr. and Mrs. Hutchens and little son, Frank and Mr. and Mrs. Hazelton and Billie Putnam, all of St. Louis, visited Mrs. Putnam and Miss Lillian Putnam over the week-end.

Mrs. L. M. Stallecup drove to St. Louis Monday morning taking her daughter, Lynette, who will be met by her aunt, Mrs. C. M. Clay of Mexico, and visit in that city. Mrs. Stallecup will return to Sikeston to-day.

'DRY ICE' USED BY MIDWEST CREAM TRUCK

Ever hear of dry ice? The new refrigerating material has all the properties of other ice, but it differs in that it evaporates instead of melts. Members of the local Midwest Ice Cream Company force explain that the material is shipped from St. Louis in air-tight steel containers. About ninety pounds per day is sufficient to keep the large truck at a temperature of from zero to seven degrees below. Valves in the truck can be regulated to control the temperature.

Dry ice is made by solidifying a gas, probably carbon dioxide, and is snow white in color. When dropped into a glass of water, the stuff gradually disappears throwing off steam-like vapor in the process.

SEDALIA MAN FINDS HEALTH IN NEW KONJOLA

Stomach And Kidney Ills Of Long Standing No Problem For New Medicine.

"I eat, sleep and feel like a different man since taking this great medicine, Konjola," said Mr. I. H. Gibson, 206 South Ohio street, Sedalia. "I suffered for years with stomach and kidney trouble. Nothing I ate agreed with me and I bloated terribly after every meal. This gas pressure made me short of breath and nauseated. My kidneys were weak and bladder actions were frequent. Splitting headaches often lasted for days."

"My kidneys were first to respond to the action of Konjola. My bladder now functions properly and I suffer no back pains and headaches. I have not enjoyed my meals in years as I do today. I never bloat after meals and my meals and my appetite is excellent. My entire system has been aided by this great medicine and I am in excellent health for the first time in many years. I enthusiastically recommend Konjola to all men and women who suffer as I did."

It is logical to believe that what Konjola has done for others it will do for you—for everyone. This is especially so if Konjola is given a fair trial and six to eight weeks is recommended as a fair test.

Konjola is sold in Sikeston at the Derris Drug Store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

Science Adopts the Air-Seal...

Here is a simple explanation of why the air-seal Burial Vault provides positive protection underground.

Try this test tonight. Force an empty glass upside down into a pan of water. Notice that the air keeps out the water. The inside of the glass remains perfectly dry.

This is the principle of the Security Burial Vault and its companion, the Egyptian Vault. Each is a large bell of purified copper-steel. They offer age-long protection to the precious remains, against ground waters, vermin and thieves.

DR. BASS STARTS HIS LIFE SENTENCE

Little Rock, Ark., May 28.—Dr. Andrew J. Bass, former Columbia, Mo., dentist, today began his life sentence in the State penitentiary here for the murder March 26 last of William R. Pearman, Columbia garage mechanic, co-conspirator with Dr. Bass in a $200,000 life insurance fraud plot. Dr. Bass was sentenced Monday on a plea of guilty at Bentonville, now is convict No. 27,685.

After being photographed, finger-printed and "dressed in", Dr. Bass was confined temporarily in the stockade, where a close watch will be kept over him in view of his recent attempt at suicide in the Benton County Jail.

While in the stockade he will receive a medical examination to determine his mental condition, and if found sane, according to Warden Todhunter, most likely will be sent to the prison farm, near Pine Bluff, and given employment as dentist for the prisoners at the farm.

Medical examination while he was in jail at Bentonville disclosed that Dr. Bass, who is 53 years old, was suffering from cerebro arterio sclerosis.

TEACHERS' EXAMINATION

Regular Teachers' Examinations will be held in the high school building in Benton, on June 6 and 7, beginning promptly at eight o'clock each morning.

CHEVROLET'SNew Service Policy wins nationwide approval

On January 1st of this year, the Chevrolet Motor Company announced a new service policy—the most liberal ever offered in connection with a low-priced automobile.

Immediately it was greeted with enthusiasm by Chevrolet buyers everywhere—because its many unusual features materially add to the economy and lasting satisfaction of Chevrolet ownership. Briefly, it provides——for free inspection and adjustment at the 500-mile mark, and free inspections every 1000 miles thereafter.

—for free replacement of any material—including both parts and labor—that may prove defective, within the terms of the standard warranty.

—that this replacement will be carried out by any Chevrolet dealer in the United States—regardless of where the owner may have traveled during the warranty period.

Backing this policy is one of the largest service organizations in the automotive industry—consisting of over 10,000 authorized Chevrolet dealer service stations in the United States alone. Come in! Learn all the other reasons why it's wise to choose a Chevrolet Six!

Mrs. Nat Lee is visiting in Malden this week, the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Wofford Wade.

Mrs. John Joe Russell of Batesville, Ark., is the guest of Mrs. Fred Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris Smith and little daughter left Friday for Cape Girardeau, where they will reside.

The following members of the Charleston golf team were in Cape Girardeau, Friday to play the second match game of the season between Cape Girardeau and Charleston: G. W. Kirk, E. B. Hearnes, Stanley Jenkins, J. C. McDowell, Harley Nelson, Sheldon Gentry, Lanier Byrd, Grinstead Brewer, Lon Moore, Kiah Smith, Jr., Spencer Love, Dr. H. Crowe, Ernest Tippett, Ed Coon, Garland Noland, Richard Hearnes, Kiah Smith, Sr., Oscar Oliver, Robt. Topping, Bailey Wilkinson, Jr., Ewing Friedman, Herbert Rowe and H. G. Simpson.

Miss Thelma Stanfil and little sister, Charley, are visiting relatives in St. James.

Mrs. Annie Harris led the study of the book "Great Souls in Prayer", which the two Missionary Societies of the Methodist church, Wednesday afternoon, took up as their course of study for the devotional meetings. Mrs. Harris was assisted by Mesdames Jno. Bird, Sue Reid and Robert Fowlkes.

Twelve of the young people of the higher grades of St. Henry's school in this city enjoyed a swimming party and picnic Thursday evening out on Deal's Ditch, between Charleston and Sikeston. Mrs. Fred Burkstaller accompanied them as chaperone.

Sitton Brothers of Dexter have realized more than $300 per acre this season on three acres planted in strawberries two years ago. Two acres of Klondike berries produced 225 crates, at an average price of $2.75 and one acre of aromas produced 75 crates at an average price of $3.50 per crate. This yield was from plants bearing the second crop. Plants are cultivated the first year only, and will then bear for three or four years with no further attention, and then they are plowed up and the process repeated.

"They serve no useful purpose", he asserted, adding that if the public has followed the investigation it will refrain from supporting "these utterly disreputable and selfish interests".

Caraway explained, however, that there were groups which were "honestly seeking to bring about helpful legislation or executive action", and he did not intend to reflect upon them.

"All agree", he said, "that every citizen has the right to present his views on any public matter to any branch of the government. To do so is not only a constitutional right but is a right that should be exercised.

The investigation has given a fairly accurate picture of the leading groups who have infested Washington and sought to influence legislation and executive action for a number of years.

In most cases it pretty clearly appeared that the chief concern of the lobbyists was to find credulous people and induce them to contribute the funds which were alleged to be accumulated for the purpose of accomplishing ends they professed to seek".

The Glasgow church which invited its members to bring their pipes to meeting, thinks that smoking here is better than smoking hereafter.

The Senator who denounces dial phones as a pest, and asks that they be removed from the Capitol, does believe that one good turn deserves another.

The Massachusetts Committee on Street and Highway Safety, having considered a large number of auto fatalities, finds that most accidents of that sort occur "between 6 and 7 p.m. on a beautiful, clear Sunday afternoon".

A friend of ours from up north, says up there they rate the three greatest men of all time, as follows: Abraham Lincoln, Henry Ford, and Herbert Hoover. They explain it thusly: Lincoln freed the slaves, Henry Ford freed the mules, and now Herbert Hoover has freed the working man.—Malden Merit.

A Florida city has passed an ordinance intended to promote the discomfort of a well-known Chicago gangster temporarily within its boundaries. Pun-making is not in good repute with the cultivated, but the ban is not heavy enough to cause the repression of the remark that he is accustomed to facing and handling ordnance.

Scott County received quite a smack in the face when Federal officials removed prisoners from our jail because it was unfit in every way. The County Court will have to do something to get back into the good graces of prisoners and other interested parties so it is up to the County to give us a jail fit for any of us, if we get caught.—LaPlata Home-Press.

Some of these days somebody is going to advertise soft drink and short order places as a place of rest, where no hurdy gurdy will ruin your nerves and you can eat in peace. If radios and music machines would use the soft pedal the racket wouldn't be quite so bad, but jazz in thunderous tones takes the joy out of eating and drinking, especially of old folks.

The Supreme Court of the United States holds that the purchaser of liquor for drinking purposes is not a criminal, under the law as it now exists. The decision states that it is fair to assume that Congress, when it came to pass the prohibition act, knew what it was doing, and deliberately and designedly omitted to impose upon the purchaser of liquor for beverage purposes, any criminal liability. Although the wets seem to have the best of it, the decision is not without a grain of comfort for the drys, since it points out clearly that the schnapps-buyer is standing upon ice so thin that it can be broken readily by legislative enactment.

The editor and wife again have sore hearts and nerve wracked bodies. Mary, our second daughter, was on the operating table for a considerable time Sunday morning at the Emergency Hospital, had her appendix removed and some repair work done. She stood the operation fine, so the surgeon said, and will make a rapid recovery. You know, when parents grow old, it is doubly hard on them to stand to see their grown children sick and suffering. When they are small and the mother is young, she can minister to them with a steady hand, but when she grows older and sickness has wracked her body, she cannot stand the punishment. The father never was of use in sickness, always in the way even if his nerve will stand, and he is just fit to pay the bills and keep out of the house. We are in hopes that for the balance of our days our children will have no more serious sickness. We are truly grateful that God has let them live through these trials of serious sickness.

Harry E. Dudley is announced in this issue of The Standard as a candidate for Collector of Scott County, subject to the will of the voters in the Democratic primary to be held in August. "Dud" has been a citizen of Sikeston for 16 years and has been a citizen that all are proud of. In fact, he is one of the cleanest men that we have. Morally, he is as high, and his influence with the boys and young men of the community has been the talk of all. He belongs to the American Legion, is a Major in the National Guard, is a leader in all athletic affairs of the community and of Southeast Missouri. He is eminently qualified for the position he seeks and if he wins in the primary will add strength to the ticket. He is to make an active campaign, knowing that in Emil Steck he has one of the best men in the county to beat for the nomination. Both are personal friends of the editor and he who receives the nomination of the party will have 100 per cent backing of this paper in the November election.

The pitiful excuse the Senate makes in agreeing to the highest tariff ever imposed upon the buying public will fool no one who takes one minute's time to think. The Democratic and insurgent bunch who had the power to keep the infamous Smoot-Hawley tariff bill from becoming a law, offer to the public as their reason for agreeing to this tariff robbery provision that they got an agreement to take away from the president the power to raise the tariff by his own act. Now just think. Why would Hoover want to raise a rate when he had got it raised higher than he would ever have dreamed of putting it had it been left to him? Every item that flakes the pockets of the consumer has been agreed to by these politicians who have been seeking some excuse to hear their "master's voice" and of all the miserable excuses, they have fallen for the most ridiculous. If this one fools the public there is no hope. If it is ignorance on the part of these senators it is pitiful and brands each as an incompetent, unfit to represent a township. If it is not ignorance, it is a betrayal of his already-overburdened constituency. In either case he should be ashamed ever again to face his people.—LaPlata Home-Press.

Gardening Is A Relief From Household Cares Women Contestants Discover

A new joy has come to the scores of women here who have entered their home grounds in The Yard and Garden Contest. These women have found gardening a most welcome relief from household cares. They forget all of their worries when tending the beautiful flowers which are making their places so attractive. And digging about the roots of plants is such a relaxation. It always rests one.

Then too, gardening invigorates every woman for it brings her the tonic of fresh air and the healthful rays of the sun. A complete satisfaction comes finally to the woman gardener when she sees the happy fruition of her labors as the growing things burst into bloom.

THIS WEEK IN MO. HISTORY

(Floyd C. Shoemaker)

The birthday anniversary of Thomas Adiel Sherwood, eminent Missouri lawyer and jurist, is commemorated this week. He was born at Eatonton, Ga., on the second of June, 1834, ninety-six years ago.

Coming to Missouri as a young man, Judge Sherwood living successively in St. Louis, Cape Girardeau, Scott, Newton, Lawrence and Greene counties, finally making the latter his home. He built up a wide practice in southeast Missouri, and established a fine reputation as a lawyer. His career was crowned by thirty years' service as a judge of the Supreme Court of Missouri, seven years of which he sat as chief justice. He distinguished himself by the clarity of his opinions and the excellence of the English in which they were presented.

Judge Sherwood was the son of the Rev. Adiel Sherwood, who became president of Shurtleff college, Upper Alton, Ill. His mother was formerly Miss Emma C. Heriot of Charleston, S. C. The boy received his education in Mercer University, in Georgia; at Shurtleff college, and at Cincinnati Law School. He came to Illinois as a youth, and after attending the college of which his father was head, moved to Missouri in 1852. He was admitted to the Missouri bar in Mississippi county in 1857, the same year he was graduated from the Cincinnati Law School.

Judge Sherwood became well known as a practitioner in Neosho, Mt. Vernon, and Springfield. In the latter city, which he made his home, he was associated with Henry C. Young, referred to by one writer as the "Chesterfield of the Springfield bar".

The severity of cutting or length of the cutting season and the treatment of asparagus after the cutting season determine to a great extent the quality and quantity of the next year's crop. Cutting too late exhausts the plants. After the ridges have been leveled and the beds have been cultivated thoroughly, broadcast and work in a good high-grade complete fertilizer at the rate of 1000 to 1500 pounds per acre. Give the bed flat culture for the remainder of the growing season.

Practically all farm animals show a preference for alfalfa hay cut in the early stages of growth, but this does not mean that such hay is always the best for feeding. Some animals, especially horses and mules, do much better on hay cut when the alfalfa is in full bloom, as hay cut in the early stages is somewhat too laxative.

Hogs and poultry, however, cannot handle such coarse material, and unless the alfalfa is cut while still young, there is considerable wastage in feeding. It should also be borne in mind that cutting alfalfa while the plants are young reduces both the yield and the length of life of the stand, and the grower must take this into consideration in comparing the money value of hay cut young and at a more mature stage of growth.

Oven-dried toast is a delicious accompaniment to soups and salads, and is an easy way of disposing of stale bread. Any sort of pieces may be oven dried and delicately browned in a medium oven, but for passing as a special kind of bread, it is more attractive to trim the crusts off a stale loaf so the slices will be square, cut them very thin, and heat them until they are biscuit colored and slightly curled. The trimmings need not be wasted; roll them out for dried crumbs.

MEDICINE
You Should Take
After You Have Tried The Others

If you wake up in the morning with spots before your eyes, swim ming in your head, coated tongue, bad taste in your mouth, you are bilious, your liver is out of order. If you have gas pains, belching, bloating, indigestion after meals, you are constipated which is out of order. If you are unable to sleep all through the night, have to get up to answer nature's call, your kidneys are not properly functioning, then these symptoms are nature's warning. Something is wrong, therefore, it is reasonable that nature has provided the remedy and that remedy is Herb Extract, formerly called Herb Juice, made from nature's herbs. The liquid in the extract from Cascara Bark, Sesame Leaves, Gentian Root, Jalap, Rhubarb, combined with other valuable medical ingredients properly blended in one of the largest laboratories in America. This Herb Extract is said to be the most effective yet discovered for all ailments where free action of the bowels is necessary. If you have any of the symptoms named above, and no energy, no vitality, no appetite, feel sluggish, you're weak, run-down, under weight, bad complexion, easy to take cold, your entire system may need cleansing. Colocynth is a mineral and poisonous. Herb Extract is nature's remedy, purely vegetable and harmless. Effective laxative, quick and thorough.

One Virginia woman writes: "Herb Extract brought me perfect health after other medicines failed." Prominent Houston, Texas, city official writes: "Before I started taking Herb Extract I suffered every day with indigestion, had to take soda. Have taken three bottles Herb Extract, can now eat anything without discomfort." You don't need any pills with this medicine. Demand the genuine as shown above. Now on sale at all druggists.

TIME FOR FISHERMEN TO OIL UP THEIR TACKLE FOR MR. AND MRS. BASS

Sportsmen are serving tackle, checking equipment, discussing plans for the future and day dreaming of the big one that got away—for it's fishing season in Missouri.

Bass, crappie, jack salmon or wall-eyed pike or goggle eye which swarm the cool waters of the Ozark streams become fair sport to the angler on June 1. The famous streams of Missouri in the rugged Ozark Mountains perhaps are the most popular of middlewestern fishing districts. James River, White River, Lake Taneycomo and many others are famous for their fishing.

The game conservation program of Missouri has made it possible for game fish to be plentiful. During 1929 the Missouri game department rescued more than 1,454,000 of the finny tribe from stranded water holes and ponds caused by overflow. In addition millions of bass, crappie and other game fish have been planted in waters of the State during the last few years.

The region is rapidly becoming one of the most fully stocked trout districts in America. This achievement is reflective of the aggressive spirit of Missouri sportsmen. Ten years ago trout in Missouri was a rarity. Yet in the short span of that period the many streams have been stocked and that species of game fish are now plentiful. While Missouri sportsmen have supported the propagation of these finned warriors, the success of the adaption program was dependent upon the natural endowment of the district.

This region is famous for its great abundance of large clear watered springs. In fact the district contains a larger number of these artesian and has a larger daily flow than any other region of equal area in the world. There are located in this group nine whose average daily discharge averages more than three million gallons per day and hundreds whose flow is beyond 100,000 gallons.

These many springs originate and feed many small streams, which are rapid in current and cool in temperature—ideal waters for trout, black bass and other game fish. The fly rod is the instrument of pleasure here. Wading boots, a "pet" selection of flies, creel, and a day's pleasure and mess of fish is assured. The famous rainbow trout, gamest and sportiest of fish, grow in great size in the ideal waters here. Two and a half or three pounds are the average in most of the streams. Four and five pound catches are not unusually rare.

But not all game fishing is done a la wading. The many small streams give rise to a number of large streams which harbor the small mouth black bass, crappie and wall-eyed pike or "jack salmon", as it is called locally.

The White River district of the Missouri Ozark Mountains is an ideal recreation and vacation haven. Excellent accommodations, facilities for golf, horseback riding, boating, swimming, fishing, tennis and in fact all sports which go to make the pleasant jaunt are here. The nature lover, who enjoys roughing it in the out-of-doors will find it unusually suitable. The district is rugged, well timbered and contains thousands of square miles of wilderness ideal for camping.

The many streams provide excellent fishing whether it be wading with fly rod and reel or the casting from boat in the larger rivers.

The last word in deluxe bus construction is expressed in the Cotton Belt's new 35-passenger motor vehicles which will be placed in service between St. Louis and Memphis, Sunday, June 1. Extra space between seats, reclining chairs, interior overhead baggage compartments, allowing passengers to stand erect on entering or leaving the bus, are features provided.

DAY BY DAY WITH GOVERNOR PATTERSON

I do not always agree with Mr. Henry Ford. The fact is that some of his public pronouncements, made as if his great success as an automobile manufacturer, gave him the right to speak ex cathedra, have been rather crude and far from illuminating.

However, recent statements credited to Mr. Ford, in which he advocates among other things increased quantity production from the soil as one of the best and surest methods to bring the country out of the present slump of hard times, deserves careful consideration. Coupled with his opinion is another that it will take as long to get rid of the depression as it did to accumulate it.

Mr. Ford did not in so many words say that the advice given by Mr. Legge, the chairman of the farm board, to the farmers to grow less cotton and other farm products if they wanted to receive fair prices was wrong and inopportune, but the only inference to be drawn from the manufacturer's remarks is that Mr. Legge's advice was not economically sound. At the time it was given, and being so widely published, it occurred to me that the proposition was not only untenable, but one that a great government like ours should be ashamed to make in the light of all that has transpired, and in view of the fact that there can hardly be such a thing as overproduction of the staple crops that have such a wide and diversified use.

The true view and the only helpful one of the situation, was to find and establish new markets, and discover additional uses for cotton and other crops which would absorb the output.

It is always better to have more than less of any staple crop, for then there is more employment, more people share in the handling and distribution, and more money is in evidence.

I am glad that Mr. Ford takes this view, and what he says may have more effect than coming from those not directly concerned with business or production.

It may be also said in passing that Mr. Ford and some other manufacturers would keep their plants wholly in the United States, and not establish branches in the European countries, as they have done, this also would have a salutary effect on the problem of unemployment, and be a factor towards bringing about better times.

If he would go a little further and advocate the removal of a high tariff from the burdened backs of the people, thereby opening up fresh avenues of trade, and relieving the farmers of the country from exactations, it would further increase Mr. Ford's reputation as an economic doctor, who had made a correct diagnosis of the national disease of hard times, and prescribed a remedy.

The truth is that some of the manufacturers of the country are now being hoisted on their own petard, so to speak. In advocating high protection for themselves, they have reduced the purchasing power of the farmers, who have been their best customers in the past, and would be again if they could buy as they once did. They have not killed but have badly wounded the goose that laid the golden eggs, and are now suffering as the result. I quote the following from Mr. Ford's published interview:

"Of course the steady desertion of the farm cannot continue forever. Too many people believe that Santa Claus lives in the city. They were raising a million dollars to advertise Detroit and bring people here. I told them the money would be better spent to educate people how to get away from the city. Half the people out of work in Detroit have farms they could work".

When asked whether quantity production from the soil would not mean overproduction and waste, Mr. Ford replied "what we call waste is only surplus, and surplus is always the starting point for new uses".

In the above statements, Mr. Ford has spoken well and wisely.

The process going on of farm depletion to build up cities bodes no good to the country. It is increasing every day the problem of unemployment, and is a great factor in bringing on crime. It reverses the natural order, and weakens the nation where it should be strongest.—Commercial Appeal.

The Jimplicute has the profoundest respect for ministers of all denominations. This country would be in a hell of a fix if we had no churches, ministers or church-going people. As a rule they are the people who make a place worth while to live in, they work for the uplifting of a community, they are always ready to respond to the call of the afflicted or needy and they who say that anyone connected with this newspaper is a scroffer at any religion is just a plain, unmitigated har.—Ilmo Jimplicute.

The Want Ads tell the story . . .

No one will deny that Standard "locals" and Want Ads are read and read thoroughly.

In few words, they tell the story of a business for sale—of a youngster who has lost his pet dog—of rooms for rent. They tell of fine homes, full of memories, thrown on the market at pickup prices —of furniture some relatively new, some with antique background, for sale.

But they tell other stories, too. They tell of wise folk who know that Standard Classified Ads are the quickest and cheapest way of finding a customer—of farmers who are business men and trade cotton seed and corn, livestock and farm implements—of many people who are able to sell or buy anything from Boston bulldogs to garden tools through a four-line ad.

You, too, will find that Standard Want Ads will make and save money for you. Put one to work for you right now.

Yards and gardens in Sikeston are needing rain badly. While the weather has been unusually cool during the month of May, a strong wind has been blowing that dried out the ground very fast. Yards are parched as though it was a dry August. A good general rain would be helpful, then warm weather to follow.

The government pays Dr. Dewey Short $10,000 a year as congressman from this district, and recently this cultured gentleman has been cavorting around his district absenting himself from his official duties while the iniquitous tariff bill is pending in congress. Of course this philosopher and world-wide traveler is not missed in the official circles of Washington where he is a misfit, but he ought to be in his seat in congress and at least answer roll call to earn the paltry $10,000 per year a congressman draws as salary.—West Plains Gazette.

AS I SEE IT

By I'm About Town

Perhaps you, too, have heard of a fellow like this. Overheard recently on the street: "Oh, yeah, he's the sort of a fellow who counts all his strokes". Golfers will understand.

As for us, we merely pause to reflect that he must be a remarkable sort of chap.

One of our friends writes, "I think your philosophy of life is 'Gawdawful'"—referring to our pet phrase: "life is a series of disappointments interspersed with incomplete attainments of original ideals".

In explanation, we merely state that even so, we have learned to set high stakes, to hope for the best, to work like hell and be more or less satisfied with what happens.

The local gang that turned back the Arkansas invaders on the local sand lot was an altogether different outfit than the one which a week ago took a drubbing from Messrs. Slim Love and the Osceola Indians.

"Little" Burrus, a mere bundle of 178 pounds of muscle, bone, brains and good looks, muffed everything coming down his alley at Osceola, and fielded four perfect chances on the home lot Sunday. But that's baseball, as Bob Mow, Sr., would say.

Little Bob Mow also played in the Arkansas set to. He replaced Kindred in right field during the last two frames, and fielded a nice long fly offered up by Mr. Hunze, juvenile hurler from Ar Kansas.

By the way, the snappy first sacker for the visitors was Mr. Yantis, regular catcher for his home town Paragould, and friend and school mate at Westminster College of Little Bob Mow.

Somehow Big Burrus looked mighty good out there on the mound. Another game or two, and that old control will be back to stay for another season. He can make Slim Love's fast ball look like a floater, and when it comes to batting—well, .500 isn't to be sneezed at.

Dick Swaim claims a triple for that fluke hit of his in the sixth. It looked suspiciously like a "dub" on the part of Mr. C. McDonald, but Swaim needed a hit to keep up the percentage. So there.

If Bill Sensenbaugh is not noticed around his place of business for a week or so, just remember how you'd feel if you had to dish out 25 gallons of free gasoline in one afternoon. And if the scoreboard announcing the free mileage fluid for circuit clouts is missing some fine morning—call you own shots.

The C. E. Dover family who have been making their home in Tampa, Fla., for several years, are expected to return to Sikeston in the near future. Charlie has been almost blind for several months and will enter a St. Louis hospital to have his eyes given attention. Friends will welcome them back to the old home town.

Milton Haas, with headquarters at Carbondale, Ill., was shaking hands with Sikeston friends Saturday evening.

As we pound the pavement day after day looking for and securing some business, we hear a constant murmur of "business is dull". So it is but why spread that gospel? Like scandal, pessimism, is contagious.

There is a ray of hope in the attitude of three or four local advertisers. "There is business enough for all in Sikeston said one, but those who go after it, will get their share and more". Incidentally, this gentleman has facts and figures to prove that his business showed a 60 per cent increase to date over a similar period last year. He advertises consistently.

While we are on the subject, we wish to suggest that others follow the same example. This following item is rather tender, but we are also suggesting that potential advertisers consult with one who has spent several years in the arrangement of ad copy instead of insisting that their original layouts be followed to the letter. Quite often a small change in position, in arrangement, or in makeup can secure twice to ten times the "punch". By the way, this consultation or actual drafting of ads is free.

Yeah, but who ever heard of getting the rash from a painting—except the iodine kind?

Things may be a little slow down here in Southeast Missouri, right now, but if everything is going to turn out as well this fall as it looks now, we won't give a tinker's damn whether they still pay $8.00 for a 5-hour daylight saving day in Detroit or not.

After the swimming party, what asks an ad. A spanking in some cases still fresh in our memory.

Friends of Wallace Applegate, both Democrats and Republicans, have persuaded him to permit his name to go before the voters for Judge of the County Court from the First District. He has consented to do so and in the proper column will be found his announcement. He has been a farmer all his life, and a successful one at that, and is vitally interested in the matters that come before that body. He has been careful and saving with his own affairs and the voters need have no fear but he will look out for their interests when he is on the bench. As an upright citizen, the county has no better, and he has the entire confidence of the voters of all political beliefs, and as this is a heavy Democratic District, it is doubtful if the Republicans put a man in the field against him.

It is to be the policy of the Bell Telephone Company to erect their own building in cities where their business will justify. At Sikeston the company still has four more years before their lease expires at which time they plan to erect a building for their own use in this city.

Plenty of room in this issue for more advertising, but it is just as cheap for us to put out an 8-page paper on the big press and fold it by folding machine as to print a 6-page paper on smaller press and fold by hand.

Although some "broilers" may be fat enough to market direct from the range, it is often profitable to fatten chickens for a week or two before marketing. Be careful not to overfeed the broilers when they are first put on the fattening ration.

Gradually increase the quantity at each feeding until toward the latter part of the fattening period the birds are getting all they will eat. The U. S. Department of Agriculture recommends the following fattening rations: 6 parts corn meal, 3 parts rolled oats, and 1 part middlings; or 6 parts corn meal, 2 parts ground oats without hulls, and 2 parts middlings. Feed these rations with milk, using 2 pounds of milk to 1 pound of mash.

One of the interesting features of the Memorial Day Celebration was the big parade of cars, twenty-three in number, which were gaily decorated and filled with children, who on that afternoon had enrolled in the Daily Vacation Bible School, which opened here Monday, June 2, under the supervision of Rev. S. W. Driggers, pastor of the Central Baptist church. The school, which is being held at the West End Public School, will continue for four weeks. Three hours each morning, five days of the week. The children are classified according to age and are taught portions of the Bible suited to their ages, scripture gems are memorized. There will be play periods, periods for music and notebook work, salutes to Christian and American flags and a period of handiwork. Rev. Driggers is superintendent of the school. There are four departments with the following teachers:

Supt. of Beginners—Miss Julia Pulham, assistants, Misses Jane Kirkpatrick, Dorothy Bastin, Mary Sue Atterberry, Bertha Dyer and Mrs. J. J. Dyer.

The sudden death of John Wesley Williams, Friday night about eleven o'clock, at his home, two miles east of this city, came as a great shock to his many relatives and friends. Mr. Williams retired earlier in the evening in seemingly perfect health. He awakened from his sleep and told his wife that he was suffering with a great pain in his shoulder. She awakened other members of the family and medicine was administered, but he lived only a few minutes, death due to heart trouble. Mr. Williams was born May 26, 1863 and had spent most of his life in this community, where he was known as a successful farmer. He was well and favorably known. He is survived by his widow, one daughter, Mrs. Pat Ellis and one son, Ralph, of this city; two daughters, Mesdames Clarence Dan and Roach Taylor of St. Louis and a daughter, Mrs. Medford Welch of Springfield, Mo. Rev. E. H. Orear conducted the funeral services Sunday afternoon at 1:30 at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Williams. Interment was made in the Odd Fellows Cemetery.

John C. Grace, who has been the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Grace, since his return last Tuesday from Berkley, Calif., where he received his Master's Degree from the University of California, left Saturday night for St. Louis, where he will be connected with the Weikalper Manufacturing Company. He will be engaged in research work.

Cracking, breaking and rotting of shoe uppers is often hastened by perspiration. Furthermore, shoes continually soaked with perspiration are neither comfortable nor hygienic. It is both more economical and more comfortable in hot weather to have two pairs of shoes for alternate daily wear, thus giving each pair a chance to dry out between wearings.

'DRY ICE' USED BY MIDWEST CREAM TRUCK

Ever hear of dry ice? The new refrigerating material has all the properties of other ice, but it differs in that it evaporates instead of melts. Members of the local Midwest Ice Cream Company force explain that the material is shipped from St. Louis in air-tight steel containers. About ninety pounds per day is sufficient to keep the large truck at a temperature of from zero to seven degrees below. Valves in the truck can be regulated to control the temperature.

Dry ice is made by solidifying a gas, probably carbon dioxide, and is snow white in color. When dropped into a glass of water, the stuff gradually disappears throwing off steam-like vapor in the process.

SEDALIA MAN FINDS HEALTH IN NEW KONJOLA

Stomach And Kidney Ills Of Long Standing No Problem For New Medicine.

"I eat, sleep and feel like a different man since taking this great medicine, Konjola", said Mr. I. H. Gibson, 206 South Ohio street, Sedalia. "I suffered for years with stomach and kidney trouble. Nothing I ate agreed with me and I bloated terribly after every meal. This gas pressure made me short of breath and nauseated. My kidneys were weak and bladder actions were frequent. Splitting headaches often lasted for days."

"My kidneys were first to respond to the action of Konjola. My bladder now functions properly and I suffer no back pains and headaches. I have not enjoyed my meals in years as I do today. I never bloat after meals and my meals and my appetite is excellent. My entire system has been aided by this great medicine and I am in excellent health for the first time in many years. I enthusiastically recommend Konjola to all men and women who suffer as I did".

It is logical to believe that what Konjola has done for others it will do for you—for everyone. This is especially so if Konjola is given a fair trial and six to eight weeks is recommended as a fair test.

Konjola is sold in Sikeston at the Derris Drug Store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

Science Adopts the Air-Seal...

Here is a simple explanation of why the air-seal Burial Vaults provides positive protection underground.

Try this test tonight. Force an empty glass upside down into a pan of water. Notice that the air keeps out the water. The inside of the glass remains perfectly dry.

This is the principle of the Security Burial Vault and its companion, the Egyptian Vault. Each is a large bell of purified copper-steel. They offer age-long protection to the precious remains, against ground waters, vermin and thieves.

DR. BASS STARTS HIS LIFE SENTENCE

Little Rock, Ark., May 28.—Dr. Andrew J. Bass, former Columbia, Mo., dentist, today began his life sentence in the State penitentiary here for the murder March 26 last of William R. Pearman, Columbia garage mechanic, co-conspirator with Dr. Bass in a $200,000 life insurance fraud plot. Dr. Bass was sentenced Monday on a plea of guilty at Bentonville, now is convict No. 27,685.

After being photographed, finger-printed and "dressed in", Dr. Bass was confined temporarily in the stockade, where a close watch will be kept over him in view of his recent attempt at suicide in the Benton County Jail.

While in the stockade he will receive a medical examination to determine his mental condition, and if found sane, according to Warden Todd-hunter, most likely will be sent to the prison farm, near Pine Bluff, and given employment as dentist for the prisoners at the farm.

Medical examination while he was in jail at Bentonville disclosed that Dr. Bass, who is 53 years old, was suffering from cerebro arterio sclerosis, a hardening of the arteries in the brain, which is causing, according to the examining physicians, a progressive mental deterioration. It was the opinion of physicians that his transfer to an asylum shortly would become necessary.

Mrs. Tom Arnold sends a remittance from Houston, Texas, for The Standard. She imparts the sad news that "Zimmie", her brindle bull dog, well known in Sikeston, is no more, having entered dog heaven at a recent date.

Ben A. Welscher of Poplar Bluff, son of the late Benjamin Welscher, who died in New York City, February 5, 1930, receives $5,025 or one-third of his father's residuary estate, according to the appraisal filed at the office of the New York State Transfer Tax Department. Mr. Welscher left a gross estate of $24,805 and a net estate of $23,387.

TEACHERS' EXAMINATION

Regular Teachers' Examinations will be held in the high school building in Benton, on June 6 and 7, beginning promptly at eight o'clock each morning.

Sitton Brothers of Dexter have realized more than $300 per acre this season on three acres planted in strawberries two years ago. Two acres of Klondike berries produced 225 crates, at an average price of $2.75 and one acre of aromas produced 75 crates at an average price of $3.50 per crate. This yield was from plants bearing the second crop. Plants are cultivated the first year only, and will then bear for three or four years with no further attention, and then they are plowed up and the process repeated.

No other plant will furnish as much grazing as a good stand of sweetclover in its second season. It is important to put enough livestock on second-year sweetclover to keep the growth down. Sweetclover that is not grazed enough blossoms and gets woody. If grazed closely, the flowering stalks remain tender and palatable until the plant is nearly mature.

On January 1st of this year, the Chevrolet Motor Company announced a new service policy—the most liberal ever offered in connection with a low-priced automobile.

Immediately it was greeted with enthusiasm by Chevrolet buyers everywhere—because its many unusual features materially add to the economy and lasting satisfaction of Chevrolet ownership. Briefly, it provides——for free inspection and adjustment at the 500-mile mark, and free inspections every 1000 miles thereafter.

—for free replacement of any material—including both parts and labor—that may prove defective, within the terms of the standard warranty.

—that this replacement will be carried out by any Chevrolet dealer in the United States—regardless of where the owner may have traveled during the warranty period.

Backing this policy is one of the largest service organizations in the automotive industry—consisting of over 10,000 authorized Chevrolet dealer service stations in the United States alone. Come in! Learn all the other reasons why it's wise to choose a Chevrolet Six!

As the life of the committee neared an end, Caraway told newspapermen that the vast majority of the lobbyists are simply taking advantage of the "cupidity or desires of individuals and groups away from Washington".

They serve no useful purpose", he asserted, adding that if the public has followed the investigation it will refrain from supporting "these utterly disreputable and selfish interests".

Caraway explained, however, that
